FOREWORD

Pleasant recollections arising from intimate contact and fellowship with friends and faculty will gradually fade away.

To keep forever fresh these pleasurable memories is the purpose of this book.

DEDICATION

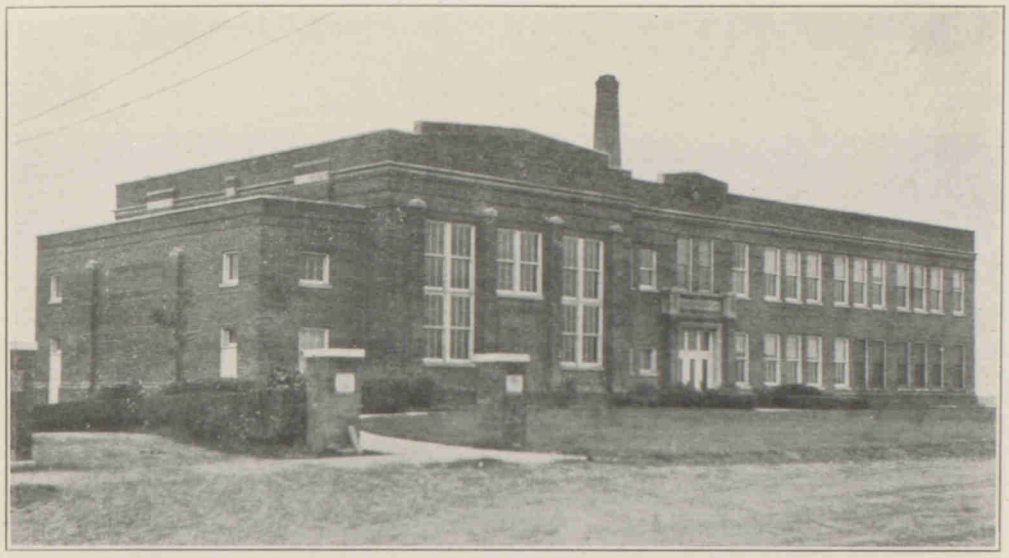

As a token of our appreciation for the interest she has taken in our class, and for the time and energy she has cheerfully given for all our activities, we dedicate to Miss Ethel M. Schwab, this edition of the "DeLanois."

D. T. H. S. LOYALTY

In the morning's early dawning
In the noontide's fiery glow
When the gentle breezes whisper,
Or the raging tempests blow:
In the autumn or the springtime
In the classroom or the hall
We love our dear old High School
And we're loyal one and all.
Whether freshmen from the country
Or grave seniors from the town
We're a bunch of loyal boosters
And on flunkers we must frown.
The good name of DeLand High School
Is a thing we hold most dear,
And we're here to work in earnest
Or to boost with song and cheer.
Come then all my fellow students
Join our teachers with a will
And we'll work and boost together
As we mount up Knowledge Hill.

CLASS HISTORY

On September 1st, the class of '30 (forty three in number) assembled to take a trip through DeLand Township High School, renowned for its good sportsmanship and place of learning. They had collected sections of Arithmetic, a supply of Grammar, bunches of dates from the tree of history, bits of Geography, and some packages of Civics as their necessary baggage. In addition to these parcels, each passen possessed a ticket—a certificate of promotion from the last station, the eighth grade.

Promptly on the stroke of nine they started out on the upgrade in the Train of Knowledge. They were given places in the Freshman section and they found the train equipped with a fine dining car whose capable chefs supplied them with much food for their mental growth and development. In order that they might gain sufficient class pep, loyalty, and school spirit they chose Forrest Henry as president of their group; while the conductor, Mr. Jones, and Head Brakeman, Miss Porter, made certain that they properly digested the meals served by the Faculty Chefs and Porters.

At the end of the first year, having fulfilled the many duties of Freshman passengers they were transferred to the Sophomore car. By this time because of the rough travel several of their group had fallen by the wayside and one or two new ones were added. Leah Reed was chosen to be president of the trip for this year, and a great deal of planning and work was done on the Sophomore Garden, which is left as the memorial of the class of '30.

By this time they had become so capable that they were shifted to the Junior coach. Again some of the passengers, Dwight Lanier, Don Timmons, Atha Swartz and Edna Stone dropped off to take trips through other schools. Shelby Crosby was elected president and with the help of the new Head Brakeman, Miss Schwab, they climbed the upgrade smoothly. The mental food became hard to digest but with the encouragement given by the Faculty Chefs and Porters the Junior passengers nobly did their duty. Several passengers took side trips into the Athletic and Oratorical Fields. There were some very pleasant stops also for the Junior Play, High School Operetta, and Junior-Senior Banquet.

Then came that glorious day when that group was transferred to the Senior Coach feeling quite dignified and superior to anyone else with Virthel Eades as class president. The grade became steeper and the journey rougher but with that glorious view of Commencement Station looming in the near distance eighteen of the class of '30 managed to mount to the top. They became more closely united and appreciated more fully the supervision of the conductor and Head Brakeman. They grew quite puffed up over the records which certain members had made in side trips to Athletic Fields, Oratorical Stages, and Glee Club Pavillions. They successfully passed the close inspection of the examiners who checked up on their baggage of Knowledge, and they now stand ready for final transfer to various roads leading through the Valley of Opportunity in the land of the Great Beyond, to cities of Success, Fame, and Worthy Achievement.

Leah Reed.

CLASS WILL

The Senior Class has felt for some time that its demise was near; we have felt that school was beginning to disagree with us and that the members of the faculty have conspired to accomplish the death of the most astoningly brilliant class the walls of DeLand High and the teachers thereof have ever frowned upon. The bitter dose of lessons was taken with daily regularity and has hastened rather than prolonged our class demise, and we know with sorrowful certainty that the hour of our departure is near at hand. Therefore being so soon to pass from these scenes of educational activity and being in full possession of alert minds and memories that put the most extensive encyclopedias to shame and having faculties keenly sharpened by many contests with flighty instructors, we would publish to you upon this funereal occasion, the last will and testament of the Senior Class of 1930.

We do hereby appoint and charge Faye, the lawful custodian of the class funds, to faithfully attend to locking up the numerous bills we owe and to settle all accounts of the departing class from the exhausted pennies of an already depleted treasury. No money are we taking with us from this expensive institution of education, neither do we leave any debts behind us.

To the School in general we leave the out-of-the-way nooks where we have been wont to hide, usually in couples, if the girls could inveigle the boys to waste the time which would have been spent in studying. To the school library we leave the collection of volumes setting forth the charms, the escapades, the achievements, and the startling knowledge gleaned from our examination papers. These volumes will be written by the first famous author who is offered a good price for so doing.

To the Junior Class, as our rightful and worthy successors, we leave:

A. Our seats. Occupy them but do not try to fill them.

B. Our Senior Dignity. May they uphold it with becoming seriousness, endeavoring to overcome their usual hare brained and frivolous flippancy.

C. Our abundant and reverberating class spirit and pep with the right to terrorize the town and make night hideous with soulful class songs and soulless class yells. Do your best to keep things stirred up.

To the vivacious and exuberant Sophomores we leave the right to prey upon the Freshmen out of season and without reason, to unceasingly torture them with the liabilities thereof.

The following personal bequests:

To the Principal of the school, the unfailing good humor of the entire class; we are certain he will need this in dealing with the Seniors who succeed us.

To Miss Ennis, who seems so much wedded to her work as a teacher we leave the book belonging to the girls of this class, "How to Win a Husband." Eventually, why not now? She needs it!!!!

To Helen Crosby, Maurine Clapper wishes to leave Lorin Swartz in memory of a certain Sunday night.

To Marianne we leave the Senior privilege of using long, impressive, and high-faluting words.

CLASS WILL (Continued)

To Johnny Norwood we leave Keith Adams' powers of fascination. It seems that Keith has acquired a girl in Champaign and no longer needs them.

To Shorty Clapper we bequeath Russell's habit of spending two hours a day on his physics lesson—by sitting on the book while he reads yarns.

To Georgia Richardson we bequeath Faye's ability to put on a fine complexion. Save the surface and you save all.

On George Norwood we bestow Rex's sunny smile. It's guaranteed not to rub off!

To future Senior Class Presidents we bequeath Virthel's power to preside with a dignity that wuld do honor to a Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Clarence Webb leaves the guardianship of Martha Marvel to any volunteer who will promise to take her to church every Sunday night.

Earl Kidd leaves his mischievous temperament and love for labor to another ambitious little boy, Earl Ferry.

Mary gladly grants her stand in with masculine teachers to her sister, Milly, good luck, Milly!

Rachel leaves her position as Private Secretary to Mr. Jones to all those who care to fight for it.

Velna Wolfe leaves her prominent dimples to Guyneth McKee.

Gene Hays leaves his collection of pencils to the High School Museum —in order that all the pupils may have some of their property represented. His enjoyment in making life miserable for everyone else by mentioning the should-be-unmentionables he bequeaths to Ellis Leischner.

Alma Halcomb bequeaths all her infatuation for Shelby Crosby to Edyth Chaney. Good Luck, Edyth!

Leah leaves her place in the "happy family" to Babe, providing the men shave their mustaches.

As Maxine "passes out" she leaves her weakness for "big city" men —especially red-headed fellows—to Josephine Cathcart and Rosemary Doyle.

Shelby Crosby leaves his method of doing business and his criticisms of the telephone system to J. C. Haggard.

Viola leaves her kindly manners to her brother, Ernest, who needs them badly when he is inclined to throw mud balls at the girls.

Keith Mansfield leaves his love of shocking people (not by his actions, but by electric wires) to Bob Bragg.

With our last parting breath we do hereby constitute and appoint the Principal of aforementioned school sole executor of this our will and testament.

Signed. Sealed, and Delivered, this twenty-eighth day of May, In the year of our Lord,
One thousand nine hundred and thirty.

In witness thereof, we attach the signatures of the class of 1930.

Subscribed and sworn to in the presence of the School House Cat. N. P.
My commission never expires.

Virthel Eades.

CLASS PROPHECY OF 1930

Having been required, by mandate of the class of 1930, to forecast the future of these illustrious Seniors, I journeyed me to the far country where dwelt the Three Fates, the sisters, who, in the famous days of gods and goddesses presided over the destinies of human beings. Fair to look upon were they and most fascinating in their skillful manipulation of the threads of life. Clotho, the Fate who was present at births, held the distaff which supplied the slender strands; Lacheses spun the thread; Atropos, with shining shears ever ready, cut these threads of Life with a fateful snip.

"Fair Fates," I implored, "Ye who preside over the destinies of the class of 1930, will thou not reveal to me the happenings of our future years? It is decreed that I must know."

Atropos shook a fair and determined head. "Not so," she answered, "Not to mere mortals do we divulge these secrets of Life." Clotho gave a nod of assent, but Lachesis spoke entreatingly.

"This request comes from an excellent class," she said. "They have a most satisfactory record in High School. They were greatly esteemed by their Faculty, and have walked before their schoolmates with diligence and perfection of manner. Let us grant them the knowledge of the future."

After a few moments of objection and discussion it was decided to give the class of 1930 a glimpse of the unfoldings of the future, which interesting view I now reveal to you, endorsed by the Fates who preside over our destinies.

We have within our ranks future daredevils, farmer's wives, preachers, actors, dancers, typists, musicians, poultry kings and farmers, mechanics, inventors, etc. The prophet of vision shows us:

Keith Adams as a dare devil in California. He still has the remains of his old Ford, which he uses to entertain folks on Sunday afternoons by driving off a high cliff into a lake.

Viola Bartison and her husband are part of the backbone of the country—for if good farmers are not the country's backbone tell me what is. Viola has always had a fondness for chickens, calves, and baby baa-baas. She is also caring for some who as babies Boo-Hooed. She is residing on a farm near her old home.

Russell Boman whose pranks used to worry the teachers is a renowned singing Evangelist and preacher residing in New York. He travels all over the U. S. and at the present time is conducting a revival meeting at the Church of God in Lodge.

Rex Garver, the world famous solo cornetist, is spending his last days in luxury in the prominent ranks of society in New York City. He gained prominence and a fortune from making blindfold tests, showing the superiority of Old Golds.

Our class president Virthel Eades, has gone in for music and art. Virthel, who was fond of drawing likenesses of the Faculty, is to win fame as an artist. He is better known as "Jelly Roll Eades" director of the greatest and classiest orchestra of the world called "Red Hot Peppers." They are now completing their four year stay on Broadway and are more famous than Rudy Valee.

Faye, who is better known as America's second Helen Kane, the famous "boop-boop-a-doop" girl is Beck's ever-popular assistant.

Shelby Crosby, true to his type is a big social leader and reformer. He is president of the anti-saloon league. Shelby tried the Telephone Company and some photographing but seemed to get farther as a reformer.

Alma Halcomb's thoughts are along the same line as Shelby's. Alma is a well known leader in the Woman's Temperance Union co-operating with Shelby. It is not surprising that Alma went in for Civil reform because she used to advocate better order in the assembly rooms; better and more bautiful school grounds and the girls should hold half of the class offices. She reformed DeLand; then the county, and then the state. Now she's in Washington telling things to Congress. It is thought by many that some day she and Shelby will go on as one forever.

Maurine Clapper is now barnstorming the United States after spending three years in Hawaii practicing Hoola Hoola dancing with the Natives. She will appear on Broadway in a few weeks in her latest role "Scarlet Ankles."

Earl Kidd has prosperity written all over him. He has money in his pockets as well as in the bank. He started in a humble way but climbed the ladder step by step. He has built over 3,000 houses and he is a marvelous and masterful carpenter. He has retired now and having become so fat it was unsafe for him to climb upon roofs is now testing the strength of Union made overalls and B.V.D.'s.

Keith Mansfield, the world's famous scientist and inventor, will retire early, firmly entrenched on Easy Street by the sale of his Non-squirt Grapefruit and Anti-splash Galoshes.

Clarence Webb is still a "little farmer." He lives on as fine a large farm as you've ever seen. He makes use of up to date methods. His farm is said to be the best equipped and is called the "Marvel of the Ages."

Here's Leah Reed, who didn't like boys and said she'd be an old maid, with a husband and four children. Leah married a short, fat man from Monticello. Her children's names are Robby, Sadie, Adie and Burly Jr.

Maxine Porter, who has always tried to bring up the younger generation to be good citizens and to be able to quote Emily Post's passages in ettiquette has succeeded again in having her way. She is a steadfast old maid always having said she would be.

Mary Plankenhorn has just returned from China where she has been a missionary.

Gene Hays is a second Major Hoople and is known as "Abie Martin, Jr." He writes clever articles for the papers and furnishes funnies for the children of our nation.

Velna Wolfe is now acknowledged as the world's fastest and fattest typist. She gained her avoirdupois from a sure cure 18 day diet. She is still single but it is her own fault.

Thus ends the prophecy of the illustrious Class of '30.

HOT SHOTS

Finally I Died

I never had such a tough time in all my life. First, I got angina pectoris followed by arteriosclerosis. Just as I was recovering from these. I got tuberculosis, double pneumonia and phthisis. Then they gave me hypodermics. Appendicitis was followed by tonsillectomy. These gave way to aphasia and hypertrophic cirrhosis. I completely lost my memory for a while. While I know I had diabetes and acute indigestion, besides gastritis, rheumatism, lumbago and neuritis. I don't know how I pulled through it. It was the hardest spelling test I've ever seen.

—Georgia Cracker.

"Abie! Abie! Come from de shade vit your new sun suit on!"

—Northwestern Purple Parrot.

And now there are the Scotchmen who send their children to the night football games so they can get their studying done without wasting electricity.

—Washington Dirge.

We know a man who fell out of a twentieth story window without hurting himself. There was a balcony outside.

—U. of S. Calif. Wampus.

Little Emily ran in the house, crying as though her heart would break.

"What's wrong, dear?" asked her mother.

"My dolly—Billy broke it," she sobbed.

"How did he break it, dear?"

"I hit him on the head with it."

—Goblin.

Pass the Pickles

We ate at a small dinner given in honor of a visiting English nobleman. The family entertaining His Lordship had allowed their young son to come to the table. The boy listened in awe as we spoke to the Lord. Of course he had been admonished by his mother to sit quietly and not talk.

However, an innate sense of hospitality moved him to break the promise when he saw how the visitor's eye roamed hither and yon across the table as though seeking for something. The boy ventured a remark, "Mom, God wants a pickle."

—Dartmouth Jack O'Lantern.

She: I want that car in the window.

He: Well, it's in the window.

—Vanderbilt Masquerader.

"Who is that terrible looking woman standing next to the door?"

"That is my wife."

"Er-er, I didn't mean her. I meant the young lady beside her."

"That's my daughter."

—West Point Pointer.

Guide: See that house over there?

Old lady: Yes. What about it?

Guide: The man that lives there buried seventeen wives!

Old Lady: Goodness gracious. Who was he? Bluebeard?

Guide: No, ma'am. He was an undertaker.

MORE FUN!!!

Beck—What is it that lives in a stall, eats oats, and can see equally as well at both ends?
Chink—I'll bite!
Beck—A blind horse!

Mr. Lindquist—Do you wish a small picture or a large one?
Rachel—A small one, of course!
Mr. L.—Then close your mouth, please!

Russell (gazing at a set of false teeth in Dentist's showcase): Those are the kind of teeth I'm going to get when I get the rest of my teeth knocked out.
Mother—Why, Russell. How many times have I told you not to pick your teeth in public?

Star-light, star-bright,
First star I've seen tonight,
I wish I may, I wish I might,
Get through tomorrow
Without study tonight.

Prof. Jones—"A fool can ask more questions that a wise man can answer."
Gene—"That's why we all flunked that last exam!"

Bob—I've changed my mind again.
Max—Well, does it work any better?

"Could anyone, love, come between us?" He asked in accents tender.
"Well," spoke the young brother under the lounge, "They would have to be mighty slender!"

Shelby—Florence I-I-I love you!
Florence—Oh, Cobb! ! !
Shelby—Well, Shorty dared me to say it! !

ORGANIZATIONS

"D" CLUB

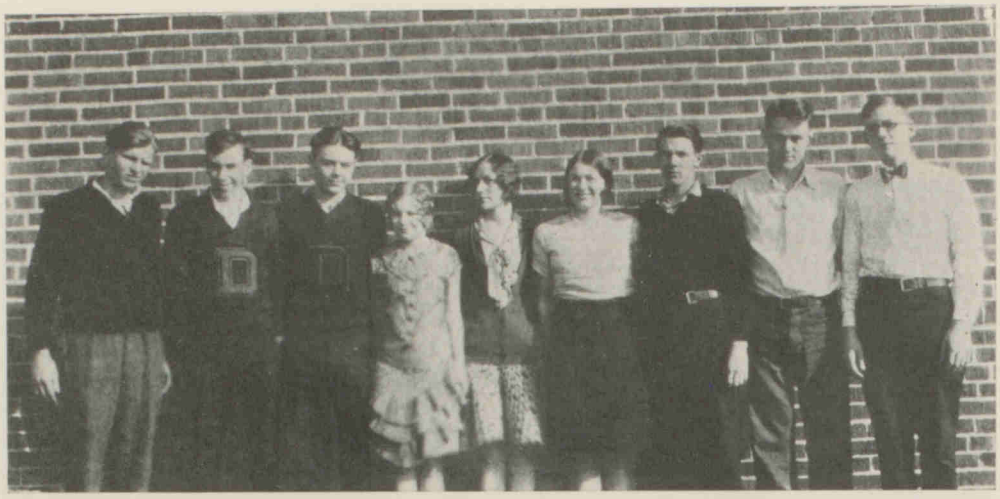

Back Row—Vaughn, Crosby, Norwood, Eades, Mansfield, Huisinga, Boman, Garver.

Center Row—Roos, Plankenhorn, Odaffer, Pickerill, Porter, Reed, Clapper, Cathcart, Crosby, Walker.

Front Row—Webb, Clapper, Hays, Haggard.

The "D" Club was organized in 1929 with Mr. Jones as supervisor. Rex Garver was chosen as President, J. C. Haggard as Vice President, and Russell Boman as Secretary-Treasurer. All students having earned letters in previous years and those who earn letters in years to come are eligible to become members. A point system was worked out and those earning a thousand points are awarded a letter "D." A letter will be awarded each year to any student who meets the requirements within that year, but no points shall be carried over from one year to the next.

All "Ds" are of the same size, color, shape and material, and smaller letters or emblems will be placed in the center of the D to designate the field in which the greatest number of points was earned.

Boman, Garver, Mansfield, Reed, Porter, Pickerill, Hays, Eades, Crosby.

D. T. H. S. Science Club

The Science Club is composed of the members of the Physics class. At the beginning of the year they remodeled the mechanics shed and worked out several minor projects. Their work follows the regular Physics course. They spend one day per week at work in the mechanics shed. Mr. Jones is their instructor. This is the first year that anything of this kind has been tried and it has proved to be a benefit.

D. T. H. S. Band

Back Row—Miss Bennett, E. Bartison, G. Hays, S. Crosby, G. Norwood, Adams, R. Garver, Mansfield, Leischner, Dresback, Jones.

Center Row—Doyle, K. Garver, V. Bartison, Pickerill, E. Reed, L. Reed, Porter, Cathcart, H. Hays, Hanson, Bragg, Marvel, Mr. Merry.

The Band is composed of 26 members attending either Grade or High School. They began their work at the beginning of the school year. Very few had had any training on their particular instruments previous to this time. Rehearsals are every Wednesday afternoon.

The first concert was given Wednesday, March 19 at 7:30 P. M. This concert was for the purpose of interesting pupils in the lower grades in some instrument to take the place of the seniors who will leave the band this year.

This is the first time for a number of years that D. T. H. S. has had a band and we surely are proud of it, and the interest that has been taken.

D. T. H. S. Orchestra

Back Row—Porter, G. Hays, Garver, Adams, H. Hays, Cathcart, Mr. Merry.

Front Row—Campbell, Marvel, Bennett, Reed, Pickerill, Walker, Bartison, Huisinga, Hanson, Chaney, Oakley, Doyle.

A new interest was aroused in orchestra work at the beginning of this year. Mr. Merry, the new instructor, gives individual lessons to those desiring them, free of charge. The orchestra contains eighteen members. Mr. Merry, who is also orchestra instructor in Williamsville, Weldon and Latham, has arranged to hold consolidated concerts at each of the four places with all four orchestras, during the month of May. It is hoped that enough interest has been taken by the lower class-men to make it possible for someone to take the place in the orchestra of each senior who graduates in May.

The G. A. A.

Back Row—Miss Ennis, Roos, Pickerill, Rodman, Walker.

Center Row—Clapper, Porter, Parrish, V. Bartison, Richardson, Garver.

THE G. A. A.

The G. A. A. was organized in 1929 with Miss Ennis as supervisor, Maxine Porter as President, Rachel Pickerill as Vice-President, and Geneva Walker as Secretary-Treasurer for the year. All girls of the Physical Education Class could become members. The purpose was to get more girls interested in Athletics, and each member is awarded points earned during the year for various activities. Dues of twenty-five cents a year are paid to cover expenses. Meetings are held every two weeks, each one having some definite entertainment for the purpose of athletic development.

ATHLETICS

The basketball team of the DeLand Township High School of the year 1929-30 had an unusually good season, having won six and lost seven of the scheduled games. In the three tournaments entered we won two games and lost four. This seemed to be rather a surprise to the fans of DeLand since the teams of the two years previous to this won three games in the two years.

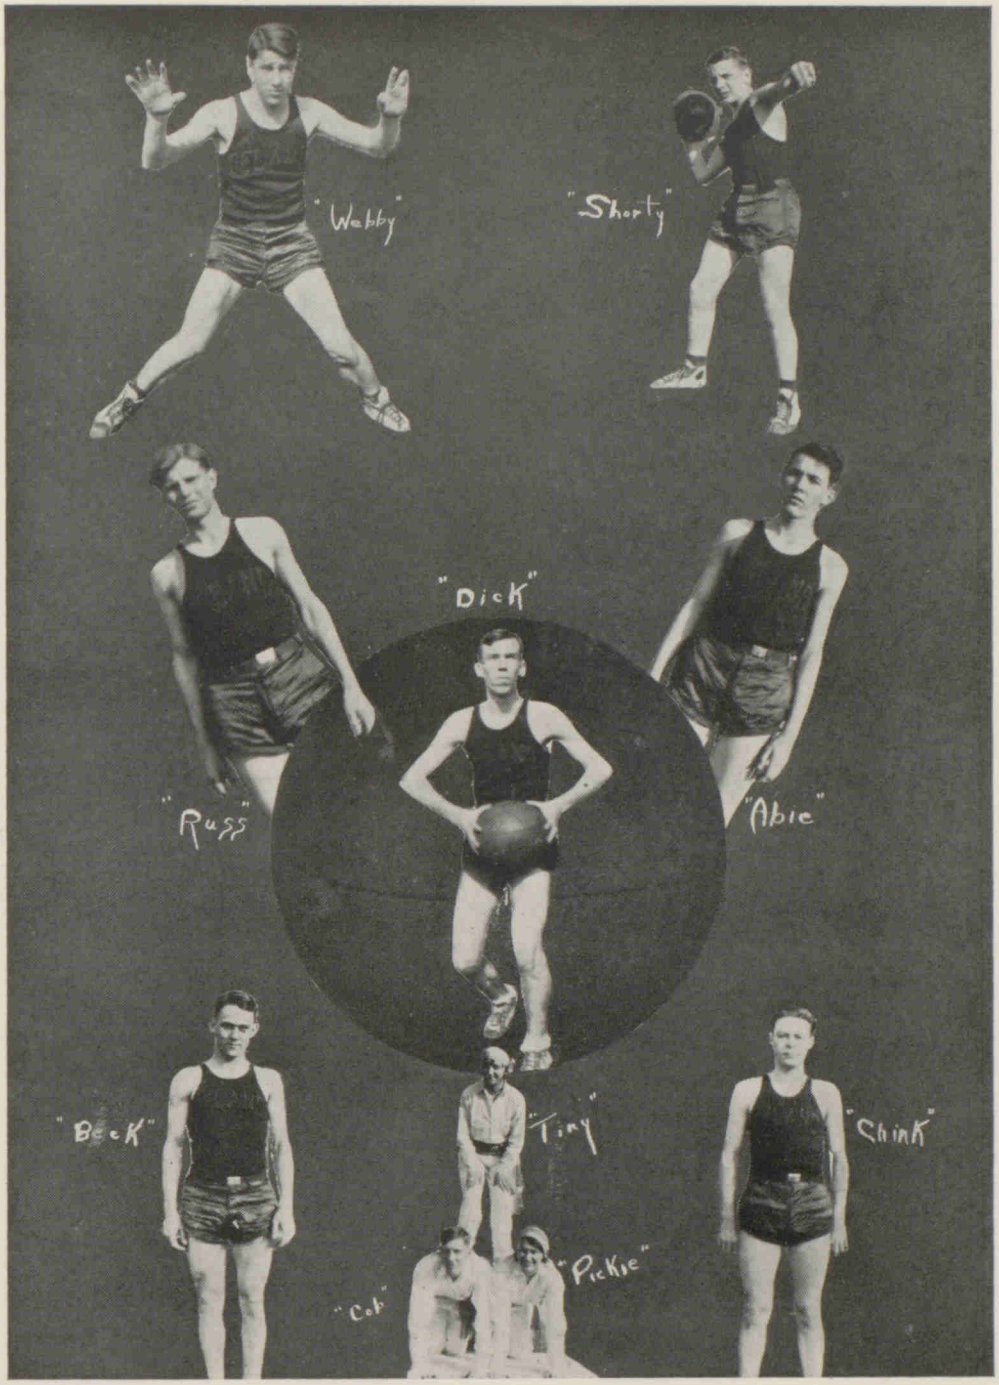

The season opened November 15, 1929 and closed March 7, 1930.

As a reward for their hard work, their good sportsmanship and their perserverence, the business men of the town gave a banquet on Wednesday evening, March 12 in the M. E. church in honor of the basketball squad of '29 and '30. A big crowd of townspeople attended and enjoyed the banquet and the program following. G. R. Hursh, a member of the board of education, was toastmaster. Coach Evans gave a little talk about basketball, and the benefits derived mentally by the boys. Rev. Willey spoke about the Church and School. The guest of honor, Carl (Horse) May, a member of the University of Illinois team, gave a talk dedicated especially to the substitutes. "Dick" Garver, our captain during this last year gave a brief talk. "Shorty" Clapper, newly elected captain for next year gave a brief outline of next year's work. A great deal of amusement was aroused when our little '31 captain shook hands with the tall U. of I. star. The program was brought to an end by Mr. Jones' speech on the "School and the Community."

The committee in charge was composed of Tom Mac, G. R. Hursh and Harry Bickel. The food was served by the M. E. Guild.

It is hoped that the people of the Community will stand back of the team next year as well as the results of the banquet seemed to indicate.

A CLASS IN CAMPUSTRY

If thirty-two is freezing point. what is Beck's idea of squeezing point?

Two in the shade.

How many subjects has Earl been carrying?

One—and dragging four.

Why has Faye such a good head?

Because it's never been used much.

Why would Maurine have liked to study "Virgil"?

Because it sings of a man and of arms.

What is Miss Ennis' code?

Woman is entitled to life, liberty, and the pursuit of man.

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

Perfect order in the assembly for one whole day?

"Bricky" Dresback with blond hair?

Earl Kidd missing his mark with a paper-wad?

J. C. worried and care-worn?

The Senior Girls losing their dignity for even one little minute?

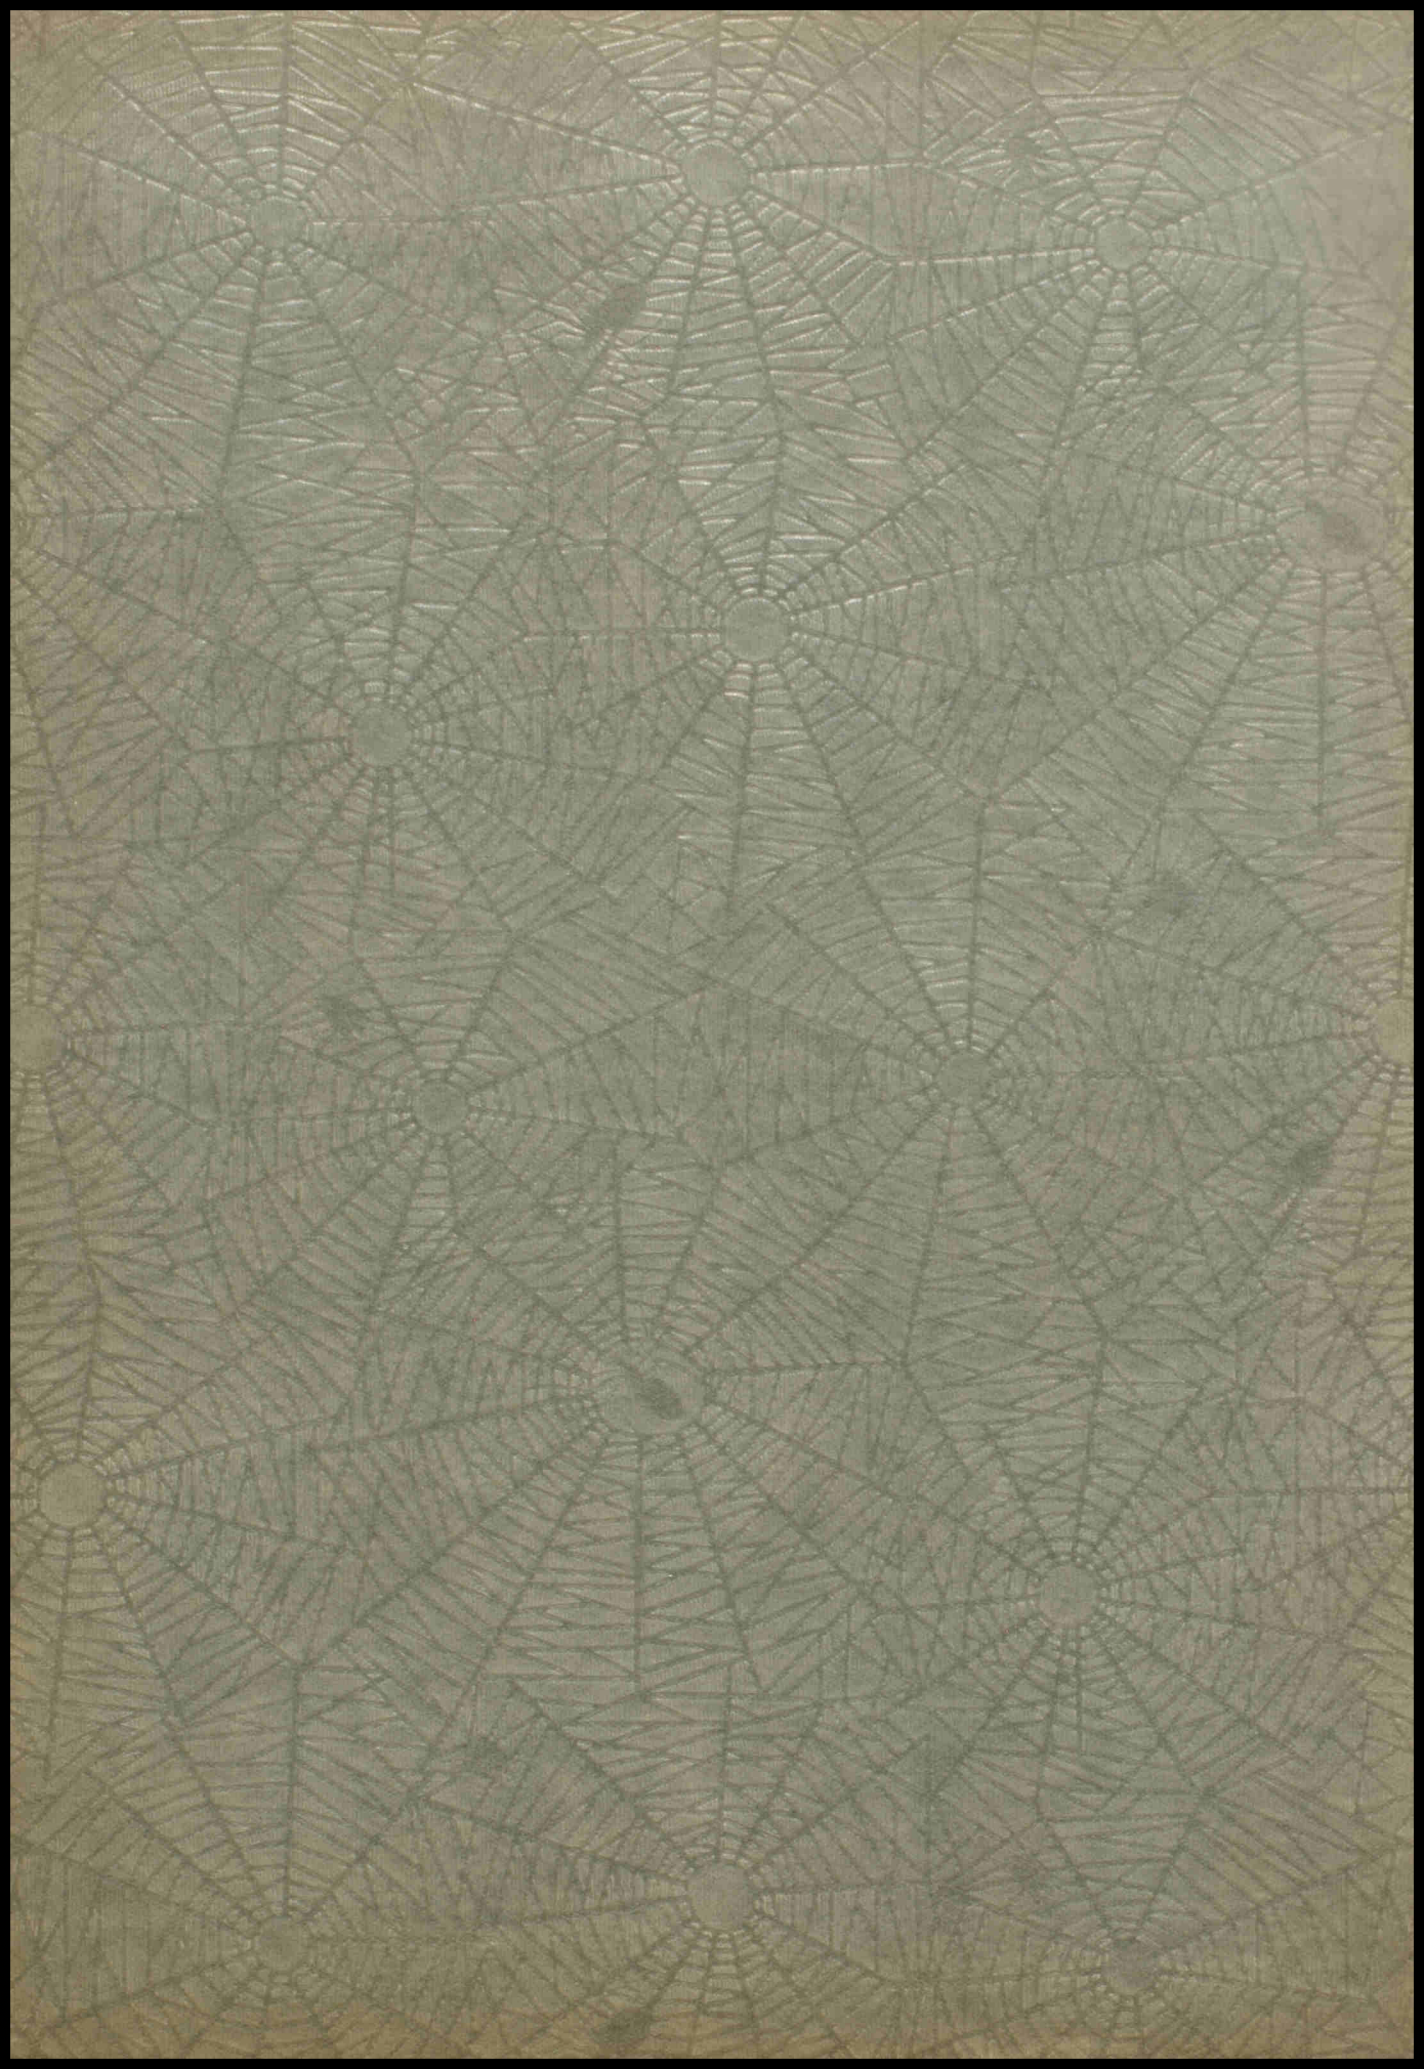

Rachel behaving as becomes a young lady of her position?

George Norwood as a ballet dancer?

Joe and Gene married and settled down on a farm?

OF COURSE YOU CAN'T! ! ! !
